

MONTHLY NRL22 MATCH LEAGUE AT SUNNYVALE ROD AND GUN CLUB

Introduction to the NRL22 League

SRGC has been hosting NRL22 matches since 2019 and is still the only NRL22-sanctioned club in Northern California! Many of our regular participants also compete in high-end tactical precision match series such as NRL22X, PRS22, NRL, and PRS.

Our NRL22 league is intended to be a fun, yet competitive league for individuals of any and all experience levels. No prior precision rifle shooting experience is required. Both club members and non-members are welcome to join us. In order to participate, shooters must pre-qualify with a Match Director in order to ensure safety and consistency at our matches.

We shoot the monthly Course of Fire (COF) published by NRL22, plus 1 or more local club stages. Although NRL22 membership is not required to shoot in our league, joining NRL22 is highly encouraged. For more information on NRL22, please see: <https://nrl22.org>

New Shooter Orientation

New shooters must contact the NRL22 league Match Director at norcal.nrl22@gmail.com in order to set up a mandatory pre-match orientation session.

Course of Fire

Our monthly matches include 5 NRL22-prescribed stages, plus 1 or more local club stages. All shooting is done at distances from 25 to 100yd, usually on reactivesteel targets. Targets can be as small as ¼", or as large as 6".

Shooting is done in a variety of positions including:

Supported Prone

- Shooter lays flat on their frontside, using bipod and rear bag for support

Barricades

- Shooter must support the rifle using designated barricades, which can consist of 1 or more of the following NRL22 standard types: Tank Trap, barrel, 2 and 5 gallon buckets, ladder, sawhorse, rooftop, cinder blocks, folding chair, Pyramid obstacle, tripod and tires. Club stages may involve a broader range of improvised barricades not listed above.

Unsupported Positions

These positions are similar to the CMP/NRA positions where there is no other means of support other than an optional sling:

- Prone
- Sitting
- Kneeling
- Standing

Equipment

- Rifle: Any bolt action or semi-auto rifle chambered in 22LR and with a detachable magazine receiver. Fixed magazines are not allowed. At least 2 10-rd magazines are needed to be competitive.
- Optics: A modern 30 or 34/35mm tactical precision scope is highly recommended with most of the following features: target turrets, side focus (parallax), first focal plane (FFP) reticle with graduations of ½ mil or 2 MOA, zoom up to 16x or more, zoom throw lever, zero stop.
- Ammo: Match Grade standard velocity 22LR ammo should be used (Eley, SK, Lapua, Norma, RWS, CCI SV, Wolf Match, etc)
- Safety: Eye and Ear protection, chamber flag, elbow/knee pads
- Support Gear: Bipod, barricade bag(s), rear bag, shooting sling. An Arca rail is recommended for fast attachment of gear such as bipods.

Alibis/Sighters

- Participants will have a few minutes prior to the match to check sighters. Once the match begins, there are no alibis or sighters allowed.
- If a ceasefire is called mid-stage, participants affected will have the opportunity to reshoot the stage.

Squading and Scoring

- Shooters will be part of a squad comprising 3-5 shooters and pre-assigned by the Match Director prior to the match
- Squads will be led by an experienced NRL22 shooter, who will serve as the Squad Leader for the match. Shooters in a squad will rotate positions: Shooter, Range Officer, Spotter/Scorer, and on-deck shooter. Only match-experienced shooters should act as Range Officer.

Cost

- SRGC members: $5 per match
- Non-members: $20 per match (includes discounted range fee)

Miscellaneous

- Shooters are expected to assist in set-up and clean-up of the range before and after the match.
- Safety will be the overriding and primary consideration in the resolution of all issues.
- Compliance with all SRGC rules and regulations is required
- Match Directors must be SRGC members.
- Assistance and guidance will be available to new shooters, or shooters new to the sport of NRL22, on a "time available" basis.
- Most importantly – Be Safe and Have Fun!

NRL22 Divisions and Classifications

Our league supports the various NRL22 competitive divisions: Open, Base, Ladies, Young Guns, OG, Adaptive, and Airgun. In addition, NRL22 maintains a classification system and national leader board for registered NRL22 shooters. For more information on Divisions and Classification, please see: www.nrl22.org
